RANEKO (CAT HABITAT MAP)

The puzzle grid contains circles in some cells. The circles are either empty or have numbers in them. The goal is to divide the grid into regions such that each region contains one circle ("cat").

A circle with a number indicates the size of the region to which it belongs.

The grid also contains black cells. A number in a black cell indicates how many regions share an edge with that black cell.