

YAKAZU

The puzzle grid is partially divided into vertical and horizontal white compartments by black cells.

The task is to place numbers in each compartment of two cells or more with all the numbers starting from 1 to the total number of cells in that compartment. Thus, the numbers in a compartment must be consecutive, and they can be in any order (for example, 1-4-2-3).

