

SQUARE JAM

Divide the grid into square regions. A cell with a number indicates the side length of the region to which it belongs.

A region may contain any amount of numbered cells and there may be regions without a number.

No grid dot should be shared by the corners of four regions.

					3						2
							2
		1			2				3
3
3							3
		3
					3		3			3
								2
	1		2			3

