NEIGHBORS

The puzzle grid contains numbers in some cells. The goal is to divide the entire grid into regions of any shape; all the regions must have the same number of cells.

Every region must contain exactly one cell with a number in it, and have as many neighbours as the number indicates. Regions are considered as neighbors when they share a part of their border.

3		3	5	2
	4				4
		5		5
3		3	4		3