

SQUARE JAM

Divide the grid into square regions. A cell with a number indicates the side length of the region to which it belongs.

A region may contain any amount of numbered cells and there may be regions without a number.

No grid dot should be shared by the corners of four regions.

				2
		2			2		2
			3						2
2			3		3				2
				3
								2
					3
2				3			2	2
						2

