

REMOTE EDGE

Connect all dots to form a single, continuous, non-intersecting loop such that all arrows and crosses in the grid are contained within the loop.

An arrow points in the direction of the longest straight sequence of cells visible from that cell.

A cross is placed at the center of more than one longest straight sequences of cells within the loop.

