

MIRRORING TILES

The task is to shade some cells black to form blocks. Each numbered cell indicates the total number of black cells in its block (a block may contain several same numbered cells). There may be blocks without numbers.

No two blocks can share an edge, but each block must be connected with at least one another block of the same size and shape through their corners (these blocks may be rotated or mirrored).

