

GOKIGEN NANAME or SLANT

Circles with digits from 0 to 4 are placed on the intersections of lines inside the grid.

The aim is to fill in a diagonal line in every cell. The number in each circle equals the number of lines extending from that circle.

The diagonal lines must not form a closed loop.

